To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my sincere opinion that Amber Aristy will be an excellent candidate for this next step in her career with Brown Forman.

I have had the pleasure of working with Amber for the past six years. When I was a sales representative, I worked with Amber as she was the spirits buyer at H & F Bottle Shop. I was always very impressed with her knowledge of spirits and how closely she monitored her inventory. Amber was always cheerful and welcoming, which I appreciated being in a brand new territory selling to such a knowledgeable person. She was always eager to teach and wanted to continue to gain as much knowledge as she could about the beverage industry.

I was very excited to learn that Amber had taken a role with Greenhouse Agency as the Brown Forman Single Malt and Irish Whiskey ambassador in 2019. I always knew Amber would excel as a supplier, because she has exceptional skills in communication and education. I was impressed when I learned how organized she is and how comfortable she is presenting to large audiences. The members of my team all speak very highly of Amber and utilize her as a resource whenever possible.

Amber would undoubtedly bring her sense of drive, organization, communication, and education to this role with your company.

Sincerely,

Stuart Cloud
